Maneuvers of Platts Interest
New York.

Old Senator Hustled Out of Hotel While Wife Threads Maze of Milk Trains.

BOTH MAKE FORCED MARCHES

New York, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Thomas Collier Platt is somewhere in the midriff of Manhattan moving so rapidly that her watchful foes, headed by Frank H. Platt, the son of her ancient husband, United States Senator Thomas C. Platt, have been pretty well circumvented.

They hustled Senator Platt out of his hotel today at an hour that was unseemly for a very elderly, weakly man, and bore him to his offices down town. But they were still in darkest doubt regarding the mode of attack that would be tried by the woman, whose wits are pitted against theirs in this game of matrimonial cross purposes. They did not know where she would strike first—at the Hotel Gotham or at the Platt offices—and their main concern was to keep Platt away from her at all hazards.

"I expect to see my husband today," Mrs. Platt was quoted as saying upon her arrival in the hostile territory. "My place is by his side."

Mrs. Platt arrived in New York at 10:30 a. m. an hour earlier than her usual hour for rising. She had left her country estate of Tiocho Lodge, in Highland Mills, at daylight, driven eight miles in the cold, gray chill of the dawn to the little railroad station of Turners, thus outwitting the reporters who watched for her in Highland Mills, and while the right of way was still cumbered with the tardiest of the milk trains she had started for New York over the Erie railroad.

REMARKABLE MAN

Will Leave This Section to Reside in California.

Col. Latham Anderson, of Eddyville, Ky., will leave soon for California to live and west Kentucky will lose one of its distinguished citizens. Col. Anderson has a vivid career behind him. By profession he is a civil engineer though now he has retired from active life at the age of 69 odd years. His father, Governor Anderson, founded the town of Kuttawa many years ago and the son has taken great interest in the town all his life. He was graduated from West Point and saw service in Mexico in the war with that country. But he particularly is identified with the great Grand Rivers bubble. He did all the surveying for that dream city and laid out the future city. It was Grand Rivers which Thomas Lawson, the eternal protest to that which is, so largely promoted, and doubtless saw frenzied finance in furious operation.

HEADS IOWA FOES OF LIQUOR

Rev. E. T. Hagerman Elected President of Anti-Saloon League.

Des Moines, Oct. 6.—Rev. E. T. Hagerman of this city was today elected president of the Anti-Saloon League in place of S. N. Fellows of Iowa City, who resigned. A new district was added with Dr. H. Hilton in charge, at Cedar Rapids. Dr. I. N. McCaskey reported that 500 injunction suits to stop the illegal sale of liquor had been won or were pending. He suggested that the Dial of Progress be made a monthly instead of a weekly publication, and the recommendation was adopted.

MEN ARE SICK.

And Every Extra Conductor Is Working on Street Cars.

Today the Paducah Traction company is experiencing a condition that has never before existed since the Stone & Webster company took charge of the property. Nine men are ill and every extra conductor is being used. They have to work extra because of the horse show and the week will be a hard one on street car employees. Little inconvenience is caused the public by the conditions.

Miss Mamie Townsend arrived from Chicago last night to visit her family in this city.

MINISTER IS HELD AS ELOPER

Pennsylvanian Accused of Leaving Wife to Wed Organist.

Columbus, O., Oct. 6.—Charged with leaving his wife behind at Fasset, Pa., while he eloped with the former organist of his church, Rev. George Lester Reynolds, a Baptist, is under arrest here, Miss Clara Esther Ware is also under arrest. The two were married September 24. "I love Lester, and do not regret what I have done," said Miss Ware, who is now Mrs. Reynolds. Reynolds will not discuss the affair. He is 42, his new wife is 23, and wife No. 1, who is prostrated at her home in Fasset, is eight years her husband's senior.

IN EMBRACE

TWO MEN FALL FOUR STORIES TO THEIR DEATH.

While Fighting They Tumble Through Open Window and Are Dashed to Pavement.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 6.—Clutched in each others' arms two young men fell from the fourth story window of the Lake Shore railroad office building and were hurled to death on the pavement below at 5 o'clock this evening.

The dead men are J. V. Bunts, aged 30 years, and Harry Wilfred, aged 17 years. Both were clerks in the office of the superintendent of motive power of the Lake Shore railroad. Bunts was killed instantly and Wilfred died in an ambulance on the way to the hospital.

The dead men had trouble previously and a renewal of it this afternoon led to an altercation.

"MURDER DOCTOR"

CAUSE RIOT IN ITALIAN QUARTER OF NEW YORK.

Experts Examine Eyes of School Children and the Parents Become Alarmed.

New York, Oct. 6.—Believing that the "murder doctors," as they called the board of health physicians, were cutting the throats of their children in a public school in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn, 1,500 women, nearly all of them Italians, stormed the school building in a mad effort to reach the little children today. Before the riot had been quelled, several policemen had been seriously injured by the infuriated women and one of the rioters had been arrested.

For several days physicians from the board of health have been examining the eyes and throats of pupils. A contagious affection of the eyes had spread from the homes of the Italians in the vicinity of the school, and the doctors were directed to make an investigation to learn the cause and to exterminate the disease.

COAL DOCKS INJURED.

West Kentucky Suffers Slight Loss
in New Orleans.

Mr. C. M. Budd, local manager of the West Kentucky Coal company, received a telegram this morning from New Orleans saying that the company's docks, the largest coal docks in the south, were slightly damaged by the tornado, which swept over New Orleans and the adjacent country yesterday. The damage will not interfere with the business, however.

Americans Interested.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 6.—American capitalists are believed to be interested in the exploitation of mining interests in southern Russia. United States Ambassador Mayer left St. Petersburg today for the southern part of the empire. It is believed his trip is in connection with the schemes of mining promoters.

It is the daily average circulation of a newspaper that the shrewd advertiser investigates—"High Water" days don't count. The Sun's daily average last month was 3939.

MUCH INTEREST IN THE QUESTION

Farmers Come in to Talk About Immigration.

Additional County Vice-Presidents
Have Been Named by President Hughes.

437 DELEGATES REGISTERED

Country residents of McCracken county are awakening to the possibilities of immigration since reading accounts of the recent convention in The Sun, and the Commercial club quarters have been visited by a number of farmers this morning, inquiring about the plans of the association and giving their views on the question of securing homes for the immigrants.

The convention and its results have greatly encouraged its promoters. There were 437 registered at the Kentucky theater during the two days, showing that the attendance fell off only slightly from the estimates of the Commercial club. Rain the first day kept many away and reduced the size of the audience.

The following additional county vice-presidents have been named by President Hughes: Hickman county, Charles Pedley; Christian county, Robert Brown; Fulton county, W. W. McClure; Mound City, Ill., Albert Williamson.

DISORDER

ATTENDS SURRENDER OF REBEL SOLDIERS IN CUBA.

Government Volunteers Refusing to Give Up Arms Until They Are Paid.

Havana, Oct. 6.—Reports of disorder and apprehension continue, but there has been no serious trouble. The American colony at La Gloria, petitioned Governor Taft for protection from marauding bands. Government volunteers at Canagay refused to give up their arms until paid. They are acting disorderly. At Pinar del Rio the rebel and government forces are distrustful of each other. Both so far have refused to surrender arms. In Santiago province the government volunteers deny the statement of their colonel that they are willing to give up their rifles before being paid.

May Recall Troops.

Dashington, D. C., Oct. 6.—There is a well founded rumor in Washington today to the effect that the order for the movement of troops to Cuba will be revoked. This is the first indication that the administration is of the opinion that the condition of affairs in Cuba is not serious enough to demand the sending of a great number of troops.

GIRL FLEES IN MAN'S CLOTHES.

Leaves Home With Brother and Beats Way on Freight Trains.

St. Louis, Oct. 6.—Dressed as a man, a 17-year-old girl who gave her name as Asha Mead, and said her home was in Terre Haute, Ind., was arrested at the Iron Mountain depot today, accompanied by William L. Mead, 19 years old, who, she says, is her brother. They left home with $4.15. In a pocket of the girl's trousers were found the brown tresses which she had shorn before the two left Terre Haute. They were on their way to Reed Springs, Mo., where they say Mrs. Lottie Howard, an aunt lives. From Charleston, Ill., to East St. Louis, the girl told the police, they beat their way on freight trains. From Terre Haute to Charleston they rode first class. They had spent most of the money with which they left home.

Idea of Official Business.

Walton, Ky., Oct. 6.—Congressman Jos. Rhinock wants to go back to the "Seats of the Mighty" at Washington, and is sending thousands of letters to the voters of this district telling of "what I done" during the past session in congress. One of Rhinock's letters has been shown to your correspondent, and, strange to say, it is in a government envelope marked "Official Business—Free—House of Representatives."

CHICAGO BASEBALL CRAZY AND TICKETS HAVE ALL BEEN SOLD.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 6.—That Chicagoans are baseball mad was partly proven this afternoon when announcement was made that practically all tickets for the first game of the series for the world's championship between the Chicago Nationals and Chicago Americans had been purchased. Speculators are now in the market with tickets with tickets ranging from $5 to $25 each.

MISHAPS ATTEND VANDERBILT CUP

Several Fatal Accidents Attend Big Event.

In Rush Man Killed and Others
Hurt, Crowd Gets On Track and Bedlam Follows.

FRENCHMAN WINS THE RACE

New York, Oct. 6.—One man was killed and many injured in an automobile accident early today. In the rush to reach the Vanderbilt cup course, Joseph Staler was run down and killed in Long Island City by a car driven by William Woods, of Boston. George Windsor was knocked down and probably fatally injured. William Horn, the driver, was arrested in this city. Mary Cogan was knocked down and fatally injured.

During the race Elliott Sheppard's automobile cut off the legs of a man on the sixth round. The accident was due to crowding on the track. Wielschott, in his flat machine, ran over Carl Bruner, a boy, injuring him. His steering gear broke and the driver lost control of his machine.

Louis Wagner, representing France and driving a hundred horse power Darracq four-cylinder machine, won the Vanderbilt cup automobile race today. It was in a heavy fog and the course was slippery, but the race was one of the most successful ever held here. Some laps were made in remarkably fast time. Wagner was in the lead all the time. He won by three minutes. Lancia, of Italy, was second in a flat.

STREET LIGHTS

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS DE-CIDES ON LOCATIONS.

Make Tour of City and Recommend Placing Twenty-Four New Lamps and Changing Others.

Members of the board of public works made a tour of the city yesterday and will recommend placing the twenty-four additional street lights at the following corners:

The board decided to put a light at Fountain avenue and Broadway, and they re-arrange all those going out Broadway from Fountain avenue to Twenty-fifth street. The light now hanging at Bloomfield and Thirteenth will be moved to Langstaff and Thirteenth streets. A nearby light will be moved to Thirteenth and Salem avenue.

Mob Succeeded at Last.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 6.—A mob at noon met at the outskirts of the city the train upon which Sheriff Powers was bringing back two negroes from Birmingham, where they had been for safe keeping, took the prisoners from the sheriff and lynched them.

WATER COMPANY SUGGESTS RATE

Water and Light Committee Considering Terms.

Better Contract for City May Be Secured Through Negotiations Going On.

NO REPORT HAS BEEN MADE

Negotiations between the Paducah Water company and the water and light committee of the general council are now going on, with a view to renewing the contract for furnishing water to the city. It is understood, that in consideration of the extension of the contract the company has offered a considerable reduction in the rate, although the figures have not been given out, because the committee and the company are still considering terms.

This is the first time a contract has been entered into since 1884 when the franchise was granted the company. The ordinance stipulated that the city was to pay for fire hydrants $40 a year for the first 150 hydrants, $30 each for the next 30 and $25 each for all over that.

The length of the contract and the terms are to be stipulated in a report to be made the general council by the committee.

It is said the reduction proposed will save the city $100,000.

TO GET BIG SUM FOR COLLEGE

Cumberland Presbyterian Appoint
Field Agent to Raise $50,000.

Danville, Ill., Oct. 6.—The Cumberland Presbyterian college commission announced today the appointment of Rev. George H. Turner, of Pittsburg, as field agent to raise $50,000 in the synods of Illinois, Indiana and Iowa to meet the conditions of the Scott Milliken contract, by which Milliken University will secure another large gift, said to be nearly $1,000,000. The dropping from the rolls of Rev. J. K. Millholland by the presbytery was sustained. Rev. John Malcolm Shaw, of Chicago, delivered an address on the work of the evangelistic committee.

TORTURES

OF VICTIMS ENJOYED BY THAI
SHIA KING OF ASSAM.

Seven of His Wives Executed Before
His Eyes Under His Personal Direction.

Paris, Oct. 6.—Thai Shia, king of Annam, according to stories reaching Paris from Indo-China, has again been guilty of such atrocities that the French government may be compelled to adopt rigorous disciplinary measures, as it did several years ago, when, on account of the scandal caused by the barbarous torture of the king's personal attendants, the French resident at the head of the gendarmie entered the palace to restore order. The mails now report that in August the king was seized with a homicidal mania, ordered seven of his wives to be executed and looked on with delight while they were slowly tortured to death.

SEVEN HUSBANDS

BUT NOT ONE HAS FIGURED IN DIVORCE COURTS.

Investigation Into Domestic Affairs of Michigan Reveals an Unusual Situation.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 6.—Seven husbands, none of whom have ever been figures in the divorce courts, have more or less legal claims upon Mrs. Hannah Brown-Chaffee, according to the confession of her daughter, Mrs. Emily Sherman, who resides in the suburbs of Pontiac. The latest ceremony of the much-married woman was with Francis M. Chaffee, civil war veteran of '62. Shortly after their marriage, his wife transferred some of her property to a daughter, and Chaffee took his protest to the courts. The investigation which followed resulted in the discovery of a previously wedded husband in Louisville. He is James Moloney and he married in 1885. Mrs. Sherman, the daughter after a severe examination, admitted that there had been six husbands annexed by her mother before Chaffee joined the throng and that there had never been a divorce. The men are reported as living in different cities. An investigation has been ordered.

ENROLLMENT OF SCHOOL GROWING

High School Now Numbers One Hundred and Seventy.

Cadet Class Will Be Organized and Faculty Selected—Choral Club Plans.

FOOTBALL TEAM PLAYS TODAY

The first week of October, the second school month of the fall term closed yesterday with the most satisfactory results. It showed a general increase in enrollment over the past months and decided improvement in attendance.

In the High school yesterday the enrollment closed with 170, the largest High school since the establishment of the schools. The High school is larger now than it was when the grammar school graduates came into the class last year at the beginning of the second term and swelled the enrollment nearly a half hundred. When the 60 pupils come in at the beginning of the second term this year, the High school will number 230.

The Cadet Class.

While Supt. C.M. Lieb will not have much time to devote to instructing the "Cadet Class," a successful feature in the schools last year, it is possible that the class will be organized again and made a permanent feature of the work. Already several seniors are taking special work. Prof. Lieb will be asked to teach pedagogy again. Other teachers will be assigned work in the class, relieving the superintendent. Tuesday the class members will meet with Superintendent Lieb and members of the faculty to discuss the matter.

Football Team Leaves.

At 11 o'clock this morning the High school football team left for Metropolis in a gasoline launch to play the Metropolis High school this afternoon. The team will return tonight.

Next Week's Features.

The features for next week will be an address on Tuesday morning by the Rev. T. J. Newell. The High school orchestra will play and there will be several class choruses, these coming probably Wednesday.

The Choral and Debating Clubs.

A choral club will be organized next week and also a debating club. Last year the debating club met on Friday evening but the time will be changed to Friday afternoon. The choral club was also an interesting feature of each entertainment given by the High school. The Choral club will be under the direction of Miss Carolina Ham, music teacher, and Miss Ada Brazelton, one of the faculty of the High school and an excellent musician.

TROUBLE WITH LAUNCH.

Governor Beckham Nearly Missed
Smithland Date.

Governor Beckham came near making the address he was to deliver at Smithland, Thursday afternoon, to the woods and birds. With several gentlemen he left Thursday morning in a gasoline launch for Smithland, and the engine broke down near Ledbetter. After an hour the break was repaired and the party reached Smithland just in time to start the speaking.

ENGINE FAILS

And Morning Train Is Delayed Several Hours.

While pulling out of Central City this morning the engine pulling train No. 103, the fast Illinois Central Louisville-Memphis passenger train, failed and caused a delay of three hours and fifteen minutes. Another engine was not available at that time and a "dead one" was steamed and prepared to haul the fast train through to Paducah. It arrived at 7:30 o'clock.

oner Eaker.

say that the principal development of the week in financial circles was the immigration convention. But a brief look at what the practical execution of the plans of the convention means, will establish such an assertion.If it is true as said in the convention, that half of McCracken county, to take a local example, is uncultivated, then for that half to become productive from immigrants settling on it, will increase the output of farm products of McCracken county weekly trade and industry review follows:—Trade is still of record volume for the season and industry is active beyond precedent. This, too, despite the bad weather and serious crop damage at the south and the delayed movement of western crops to market. The silver lining to the southern cloud, however, is found in the advance of ½ cent a pound in cotton and cooler and more settled weather at the west evokes an improvement in the retail trade.Car shortages are charged with some responsibility for the rather slow movement of grain but firmer tone of cereals is largely due to reports of improving export demand.

The three most important general lines of the country's trade—textiles, iron and steel and building—show an unprecedented activity. Fall festivals and cool weather have been a stimulus to the western retail trade. But collections are irregular, ranging from slow to fair at the south to good at some western points.Cuban intervention and the prompt disarmament of parties to the dispute have put a new phase on the sugar situation. Refined sugars have depreciated 20 points and raws are lower here and in Europe. Wheat including flour exports for the week were 4,917,000 bushels against 1,673,000 bushels this week last year. For the past fourteen weeks of the fiscal year, 44,795,000 bushels against 17,099,000

year, after the harvest has been gathered, it is customary in France to hold agricultural fairs in the large country towns for trade and amusement. The farmers meet their customers and each other, sell their crops and calves and colts and buy whatever is necessary, while their wives and daughters take advantage of the opportunity to get acquainted and to spend their share of the proceeds for dress goods, household articles and whatever else they may need or fancy. The entire community—men and women, boys and girls—are thus brought together once a year, the fashion to do so, and the increased demand in a large measure, it is said, has been caused by the rule prohibiting the wearing of hats in theaters.Usually the "coupeurs" pay either in cash or goods from $10 to $25 for a head of hair. The price is usually from 25 to 10 francs a pound, according to length and quality and color. This year they complain that they have to pay double those prices and that the girls are more reluctant than ever to sell. Prices have run as high as $60 and $75 a pound. The newspapers report one woman at Limoges who sold her long plaits this fall for $190, which is the record price. Three girls belonging to another family at the same place sold their combined tresses for $480. The average price paid was double that of previous years.This change of conditions is accounted for by the dealers, first because of their suppression of the convents under the law recently passed by the chamber of deputies. Girls intending to be nuns, were usually willing to sacrifice their hair, because the pious nuns consider it a vanity, and, second, because by selling it they could benefit their families. No girl can enter a convent in France now. If she desires to become a novitiate she must go to some other country. Hence that source of supply has been cut off.The "coupeurs," also say that the peasant girls of Brittany and other departments are discarding the native head dress which conceals the
The wholesale dealers in human hair send agents called "coupeurs" to these annual gatherings to buy the tresses of the young women and girls. They take with them trunks full of dress goods, fobus, feather boas, jewelry of all kinds and other ornaments and set up stands in conspicuous places to await the victims.
Their practice is centuries old and the terms and methods by which the trade is carried on are well known to the country people. For six months or a year in advance the girls consider and discuss whether they shall sell their hair or not and conjecture as to what they can get for it; and if they refuse to sell one season many of them promise the "coupeur" that they will trade with him the next year.
These fairs are most common in Brittany, Auvergne, Limoges and other parts of central France, from which the largest supply of human hair is derived. Between fairs the "coupeurs" go about the country from house to house and visit the villages, tempting the women to be shorn.Crop of Hair.The annual crop of human hair for many years has averaged in value in Paris alone more than 5,000,000 francs, or $1,000,000, but this year the coupeurs, who are beginning to come in, report a decided falling off and predict that the crop will not amount to more than 1,000,000 francs, although the demand has increased considerably in the last few years.Fashionable women are wearing more false hair than formerly. It is hair and are wearing Paris fashions.
Furthermore they have learned the value of their tresses and will no longer trade them for a dress pattern, a string of beads a bracelet or other gewgaws. As a consequence of these changed conditions hair is 50 per cent more expensive in ParisECLIPSE

The greater part of the crop, which comes not only from the rural districts of France but from the fath-ermost ends of Europe, is used in Paris, but a considerable amount is exported. The value of the exports in 1903 was $580,000; in 1904 it was $999,000.
There are fifty wholesale dealers and exporters of human hair in Paris and at least 1,000 wig makers and dealers. There are 2,600 hairdressers and in 1905 it was $950,000. A large part of these exports go to England and the United States, but most of the hair is made up into wigs or coiffures before shipment.Paris the Market.Paris is the center of the human hair trade. More attention is given to hairdressing here than in any other place. The styles change as rapidly as any other portion of human dress, and one might as well be out of the world as out of the style in Paris.

"till I could scarcely stand on my feet. I had pain low down and headache—not a day without it—and awful pain in my right and left sides. I could hardly lie down, and could not sleep nights. Doctors tried, but failed to give me permanent relief. I began to take Cardui, which soon benefited me, and now I feel like a new person." Cardui is a purely vegetable remedy, for all female diseases. It acts gently and specifically upon the sick womanly organs, and by strengthening and fitting them to do their natural work, it has restored to health thousands of hopeless invalids. Try it.

SUPPORT OFFEREDFor Thousands of Immigrants in This County.The matter of resources in soil products for the employment of immigrants was an important point brought up in the immigration convention, and it was settled that Kentucky could offer employment and support in tilling the land to hundreds of immigrants.
Dozens spoke on the subject and many sound arguments and facts were presented, but the latest, and one which will mean a great deal towards convincing the skeptical, comes from Prof. C. H. Shrieves, master of science who has just come to Paducah to take charge of the science work in the High school.
"This is a fine country down here," Prof. Shrieves declared, "and I never in all my life saw such big corn fields. Why some of them seemed to have no end. I never saw anything to equal it in all my life." Prof.
Shrieves came from Boston and the agricultural features of this county surprised him. The further south he came the wider his eyes opened.
From Prof. Shrieves' observations many thousands of immigrants might be steadily employed in farming in Kentucky.NOTICE.The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Langstaff-Orme Manu-

CREDO.

Live, while the good life's in you;
Love, while love ye may.
Measure your joy by your own heart's need;
Live in the present, and take your meed
Of the tears that follow after.
Give of your best unstintingly;
Take, when worth the while.
Roaming the earth in a circle wide, Heed where ye step, lest a careless stride
Cause the tears to follow after.

Live, while the red blood's leaping;
Love, while your heart is young.
Largely swing, in your chosen way;
Drink deep of joy, taking now your pay
For the tears that follow after.

Society at the Horse Show.

In evening dress and from the boxes has Society looked upon the Horse Show, adding just the effective touch to the brilliancy and gaiety of the scene. All the forty-four boxes have been occupied each evening with beautiful and handsomely dressed women and distinguished men, including many attractive visitors, and have divided interest with the ring.
The costumes worn have been creations distinctively for the Horse Show events. The debutantes have been a center of interest, too, and among them Miss Marjorie Scott, and her visitor Miss Lucy Bruen, of Missouri, Miss Frances Wallace and Miss Mary Scott have been especially noticeable, always charmingly yet girlishly gowned.

Bridge Breakfast at Lohmeyer Lodge.

Mrs. George A. Flournoy was hostess at a delightful bridge breakfast on Saturday morning at her attractive country home, "Lohmeyer Lodge."
It was in compliment to her sister and guest, Mrs. Gus Thomas, of Mayfield, and to the guests of Mrs. Cook Husbands, Mrs. Robert Phillips and Mrs. Campbell Flournoy. Breakfast was served at 11 o'clock and was a most elaborate affair. The flowers were effectively arranged in the Loving Cup won by Mrs. Flournoy during the Horse Show events. After the breakfast bridge was played until the hour for the children's reception at "The Pines."

Mrs. Flournoy's guests were: Mr.
and Mrs. John Love, of New York;
Mr. and Mrs. Guy Johnston, of Clarksville; Mrs. Gustav Warneken, of Clarksville; Mrs. Anne Berryman, of Mayfield; Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips, Mrs. Cook Husbands, Mrs. Campbell Flournoy, Mr. Harle Caldwell, of Clarksville; Mr. Jack Lowry, of Bear Springs.

The Horse Show Ball.

The brilliant event of the week was the Horse Show ball which took place on Friday evening at the Elks Home. This handsome new building was thrown open for the first time and was effectively decorated in the Horse Show colors with red, yellow and blue draperies. There were quantities of palms and cut flowers, with the red and yellow dahlias in masses of color. Refreshments were served throughout the evening and the tea table presided over by Mrs.
Campbell Flournoy, and punch table served by Mrs. Thomas Leech were arranged in one of the pretty reception rooms, which was attractively decorated in red and yellow dahlias.

Promptly at 10:30 o'clock the grand march started. It was led by Mr. Robert Becker Phillips, president of the Horse Show Association, and Mrs. Thomas C. Leech, chairman of the executive committee. It was a brilliant spectacle, over a hundred couples taking part and many beautiful costumes being in evidence. Following this were several dances and then a 4-figure cotillon led by Mr.
Roy Culley and Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips, chairman of the entertainment committee. The favors were all in keeping with the Horse Show idea and included tiny toy horses, whips, spurs, crops, caps, bridlebits, mirrors, red and yellow chrysanthemum pin cushions in the Horse Show colors and various pretty souvenirs of the occasion.

Mrs. George C. Wallace and Miss Anna Webb were at the favor table.
The dance programs were also attractive souvenirs, being gotten up with red and yellow effects and a horse's head in gold and had red and yellow pencils attached.

The reception committee and the chairmen of the various other committees received the guests and these included: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Leech, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wal-stein, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Friedman, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rudy, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Blecker, Dr. and

A charming morning card party was given on Friday by Miss Frances Wallace at her country home, "El-lerslie," in honor of Miss Lucy Bruen, of Webb City, Mo., who is the attractive guest of Miss Marjorie Scott. The house was most attractive with a profusion of flowers.

There were ten tables and euchre was played. The game prize was taken by Miss Rella Coleman. Mrs.
Anne Berryman, of Clarksville, won the visitor's prize and presented it to Miss Bruen. The consolation prize went to Miss May Owen. After the game a delightful substantial luncheon with grape punch was served.

day in honor of the Horse Show sponsors and visitors. It was held in the handsome rooms of the Chess, Checker and Whist club, which were effectively decorated in the Horse Show colors of red, yellow and blue. Red and yellow dahlias were used in profusion. Hillman's orchestra played during the reception and from three to five the rooms were crowded and the many beautiful costumes in evidence added to the charm of the effect. At the tea table Mrs. Amour Gardner presided and was assisted by Mrs. Carrie Ellis, Miss Caroline Sow-the theater in honor of Mr. and Mrs.

Macyn Arbuckle, of Canada, who were with "The County Chairman" company, Mr. Arbuckle having the leading role.

In the dining room, which was charming with American beauty roses, ferns and green shaded can-and ear, the sight of prancing horses, guided by practiced hands under the glare of electric lights, to the notes or sweet music will attract them.

But while we are congratulating ourselves on the success of this show, let us not overlook the lesson it has taught us. Had last week's weather been postponed one week, the horse show would have been impossible, the association would have been plunged in debt and doubtless frightened from attempting a repetition of the fiasco. Last year the cold weather was something of a detriment. Under present conditions we are at the mercy of the elements.
The popularity of the horse show is beyond question. If it were given under cover, so that no matter what the weather the audience and the performers would be dry, the annual success of the enterprise would be placed beyond doubt.

Why could not some means of constructing a horse show building be devised? Boxes and season tickets at premium prices for the first year might be sold and sufficient funds secured to start the building. The management, we know, keep ever before them the idea of erecting a building and making the institution permanent, and the sooner this is done, the sooner we will be on the safe side of this weather problem.

John D. Rockefeller is greatly terrified at the apparent danger to American industries from government interference, and he cites the attack on the beef trust products as an example of giving European competitors a chance to assail the quality of our goods. It's a lovely theory, this eating rotten beef and maintaining silence lest some breath of scandal taint the reputation of our American products. John D. Rockefeller and the beef barons know who brought discredit on American products in Europe and at home. John's declaration that the "French hate us and want our money," is the keynote of his alarm. John has just returned from a trip abroad and the French tippling custom got on John's nerves.
No doubt they want our money, but they don't want any harder than John D. Rockefeller does.

Massachusetts Republicans yesterday in convention congratulated Secretary Root on his successful mission to restore peace and friendship between the republics of America. The Democrats the day before endorsed Hearst for his success in stirring up social strife in America.

Trust Louisville for hospitality.
Just to make the fire chiefs on their way to Dallas, Tex., feel at home today, she got up a big fire.

Those delegates to the Knights of Pythias grand lodge meeting exhibited the Paducah, spirit, all right.

Next comes the Farmers' Institute for southwestern Kentucky.

TOBACCO REPORT.

Following are the weekly and monthly tobacco reports compiled in

How the Blood Flow Affects Health.

Few people appreciate the necessity of keeping the blood in every way in good condition if they would have good health.

There are two factors in disease, which, by an endless variety of changes and combinations define every departure from normal conditions.

These are the BLOOD and the NERVES. They sustain life, and END IT.
The blood must maintain a steady, swift and equal flow or bad consequences follow. Every organ and tissue must get its right share of blood, no more, no less. Stop it and the system is soon poisoned with accumulated body sewage, and lack of proper nourishment sets up, headaches, tired, worn out sensations, no life, no energy and other kindred ailments follow.

Right the blood flow, and they all leave.

This is the Osteopathic theory. It merely goes back to the beginning of disease. It finds most disease is associated with an abnormal blood flow.

Especially during the fall and winter months it is necessary to keep the blood flow right. Exercise of the right sort is a good stimulant for circulation, but the dry hot air treatment, followed by the Osteopathic treatments, which I am giving with such marked good results, is the best treatment yet discovered.

Why? Simply because they get to the basis.

Come to see me at any time and I can easily satisfy you that I can soon build up the run-down system, while you are attending to your usual duties. I shall, too, be pleased to refer you to people you know well who are enthusiastic in their praises of the treatments.

My office hours are from 9 to 12
a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m.

SHOW IS SUCCESS IN SPITE OF RAIN

Paducah Will Have Another Exhibition Next Year.

Last Night's Audience Eclipsed the Opening Crowd and Proved Its Popularity.

EXHIBITION WAS EXCELLENT

The Paducah horse show has been tried with water.

Paducah will have another horse show next year. This already has been decided on by the association.
Rather than proving detriment to this year's exhibition, the bad weather that postponed the opening and threatened every day with a deluge, only established the popularity of the attraction. The elements did their worst to dishearten the managers and discourage the patrons without avail.

The people would go and the association is certain, now, of coming out ahead.

The money made on the show will be devoted to increasing the prizes for next year. From year to year the funds for improving the attractiveness of the affair will be augmented by the profits, until some day, right soon, too, we will have a horse show building. Then the institution will be permanent.

Mr. Scott Isbell, who has been judging horses a half dozen years, honestly stated that he had not seen in Kentucky a better aggregation of saddle and harness horses on exhibition. The best of it is, that seventy-five per cent of the animals are owned in Paducah.

With an audience while none the less brilliant than on the first night, save as costumes were hidden under the folds of wintry wraps, and the grand stand crowded as never before in the history of the annual horse show, the events last night at League park were every bit as attractive as the preceding program. This was children's night and the little ones were the center of attraction with their clever drills and beautiful flower-covered vehicles.

The air was crisp, but this condition was welcomed by the managers and spectators, who started out after supper, fearful of another heavy rain.
The temperature, however, did not conduce to discomfort although it stimulated the sale of the hot drinks and refreshments in the boxes.

Two accidents in the tanbark arena last night, had the fortunate property of adding to the excitement of the occasion without injuring anyone.

During the flower parade the pony, driven by Miss Mary Morris and Hannah Corbett became frightened at the band and reared in such a fashion as to overturn the cart. The occupants were thrown out, and the outfit was withdrawn lest the pony get beyond control again.

In making a turn in the pacing event Mr. Bennie Frank's horse wheeled too sharply, cramping the runabout, which spilled the driver.
Mr. Frank clung to the reins and kept his horse under control.

The events were as follows:

Juvenile Riders.

In the opening event for little boys and girls, there were the following entries: Mary Terry Burnett, Henry Burnett, Lucien Burnett, Edward Newell, Miller Bonnin Edwin Lightfoot, Miss Whitehead, Tillie Bauer, Lucy Overbey, Brooks Townes, Far-less Thompson, Ed Melber, Dick Scott, Jr., Leslie Warren, Fowler Post, Henry Leake Helen Van Meter and Elbridge Palmer. The children drilled and rode over the grounds, they being costumed in rough rider garb. The prize a handsome saddle, was given to Helen Van Meter for being the best girl rider, and a saddle to Joseph Fowler Post, the son of Mrs. Edmund M. Post, as the best boy rider.

The boys and girls then rode as couples and Mary Terry Burnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Muscoe Burnett, captured the girl's prize of a handsome diamond studded gold locket and chain while Elbridge Palmer, son of Mrs. Elbridge Palmer took the boy's gift of a fine gold watch.

Flower Parade.

The next event was the flower parade by the children and the following participated:

Louise Campbell, Marion Cosby, Colinne Cosby and Edith Cope, with mouse colored pony, double seated rig decorated with white poppies.
William Hughes and Edith Sherrill in single seated rig, decorated with pink roses, and with arch over the seat.

Mary Terry Burnett, accompanied by Anna Webb Phillips, Joseph Becker Phillips and Muscoe Burnett, Jr., driving rig decorated with pink flowers.

Best Program of the Week SATURDAY NIGHT

October 6

On account of inclement weather Wednesday's opening program was transferred to Saturday night.

7:30 to 7:45.

1. Grand parade of all horses entered for the night's contests.
2. Best Roadster shown to runabout, mare or gelding, equipment considered, driver to be accompanied by lady. $15, $10, $5.
3. Musical Drill. Cup for best couple, cup for best lady, cup for best gentleman.

The Musical Drill is one of the big features of the Horse Show. Twenty well trained couples, going through a series of difficult evolutions in a brilliantly lighted ring, will arouse the enthusiasm of the audience to white heat.

4. Best Pair Roadsters shown to runabout. Equipment considered. Driver to be accompanied by lady. $25, $15, $10.

There is nothing in the horse world more beautiful than a handsome pair of blooded horses shown to a light runabout. The nine entries in this ring could not be surpassed in the state of Kentucky and the judges will have a hard time naming the winner.

5. Registered Five-Gaited Saddle Stallion. $25, $15, $10.

When the association arranged this ring they did not expect more than three entries, but horsemen have thought so well of the Paducah Horse Show and have brought so many "good ones" that it will be one of the best filled rings of the entire program.

6. Pacing Roadster to runabout. $15, $10, $5.

There are a great many pacing horses in this section and the pacing ring will be one of the largest and most hotly contested of the entire meet.

7. Champion Light Harness Horse, mare or gelding, owned in Western Kentucky, Southern Illinois or Western Tennessee. Horse must have been owned by exhibitor thirty days before this event. No exhibitor to enter more than one horse. Horse 75 per cent, equipment 25 per cent. $60, $25, $15. The champion to receive the Palmer house cup, valued at $150.

There will be no less than fifteen entries for championship and the money value of all the horses shown in this ring will run well up towards $10,000. It will be a display of horse flesh that will thrill the blood of every Kentuckian, and "every Kentuckian" that can possibly arrange should be there.

1,000 good seats at 25c each; 1,500 reserved seats at 50c each.

Show Starts Promptly at 7:30

Davis Island Dam	6.1	2.0 rise
St. Louis	11.5	1.2 fall
Mt. Vernon	13.3	0.0 fall
Paducah	19.3	1.2 rise

The distance from First street to the wharfboat is growing shorter rapidly. The river now is higher than it has been since the latter part of April. The stage is 49.2, a rise of 1.2 in the last 24 hours. This high stage doubtless is most welcome to the horses and mules which have a hard pull when the river is low. If the river rises much higher it will not be necessary to lower the boats at the ways to it, for the river there is close to the Speed.

The Russell Lord arrived from St. Louis today with four empty tie barges, and will leave Monday for the Tennessee river after ties. These ties, which heretofore have been re-handled at Brookport, will now be carried to St. Louis for rehandling.

The new wheel of the Joe Fowler, partly complete, was placed in position this morning. The buckets have not been put on. Small repairs such as painting will be made on the Joe Fowler and John Hopkins.

The Dunbar probably will arrive from Evansville tonight and lie over till Monday morning before the return trip. The Henry Harley arrived late last night.

The Saltillo came out of the Tennessee river last night on the return way to St. Louis.

The Buttorff will get in from Nashville Sunday night and wait until Monday at noon before leaving for Clarksville.

The Dick Fowler had a bunch of mules on the trip down to Calro this morning. The freight was a little late arriving for the Dick Fowler this morning and Captain Bewley was on edge. When the clock shows only a few minutes till 8 o'clock the captain may be seen pacing the wharfboat with a restless step, for it is his ambition to have his boat leave on time. From the regularity with which the Dick Fowler does leave on time, that boat has gotten a reputation up and down all the rivers, and because one man did not think it was necessary for a boat to be always late.

The Kentucky is at the wharf today receiving freight for the up trip to the Tennessee river.

When the Gate City gets off the dry docks, it will be ten inches higher in draft and four feet wider at the bottom. Captain Taylor in his spare moments is building a gasoline boat for himself. It will be fifty feet long.

Capt. Marsh Miller, eighty years of age, a native of Louisville, and one of the most widely known rivermen in the country, is dead at Memphis, Tenn. At the outbreak of the civil war Capt. Miller was given command of the Confederate gunboat Grampus.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio at Eansville and Mt. Vernon will continue falling during the next 24 hours. At Paducah and Calro will continue rising during the next two days.

The Tennessee at Florence will commence falling by tonight or tomorrow morning. At Johnsonville will continue rising during the next 24 to 36 hours. Maximum stage at Johnsonville will approximate 23 feet.

The Mississippi from below St. Louis to slightly above Calro will continue falling.

Paducah Horse Created Sensation at Graves County Fair—Races
Are Postponed.

RHINOCK'S OFFICIAL BUSINESS.

Mayfield, Oct. 6.—Paducah is not only attracting attention in sporting circles, through her excellent horse show, but is making a showing on the track, a Paducah horse yesterday breaking the track record at Mayfield in the mud.

"J. T." Charles Clark's horse, won her heat in the free-for-all one mile pace and struck the wire at a 2:20 1/4 clip, breaking the track record and outdistancing every other entry in the race. She will enter again Monday in the free-for-all pace. The purse yesterday was $300.

The races are features of the annual Mayfield fair which was delayed by rains and will necessarily have to go into next week.

The free-for-all pace with five entries, was the biggest and most exciting of the entire program. Entered in this contest were "J. T." owned by Charles Clark, of Paducah; Dan Redden, owned by John Redden, of Paducah; Hal Plex, owned by E. C. Reed, of Fulton; Gray Jug, owned by Dr. John Dismukes Jr., of Mayfield; Jim Jeffries, owned by W. K. Jeffries, of Hardin.—Purse $65.

"J. T." won the first heat in one of the prettiest finishes ever seen on a race track in this section of the country. Dan Redden took the lead after passing Jim Jeffries at the first quarter and kept it all the way around until the wire finish came when J. T. plunged ahead amid tremendous applause. Time 2:23 1/4.

Author of "The Sowers," "Rotten's Corner," "From One Generation to Another," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1894, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

CHAPTER I.

"My dear madam, what you call heart does not come into the question at all."

Sir John Meredith was sitting slightly behind Lady Cantourne, leaning toward her with a somewhat stiffened replica of his former grace. But he was not looking at her, and she knew it.

They were both watching a group at the other side of the great ball-room.

"Sir John Meredith on heart," said the old lady, with a depth of significance in her voice.

"And why not?"

"Yes, indeed. Why not?"

Sir John smiled with that well bred cynicism which a new school has not yet succeeded in imitating. They both belonged to the old school, these two, and their worldliness, their cynicism, their conversational attitude belonged to a bygone period. It was a clearer period in some ways—a period devoid of slums. Ours, on the contrary, is an age of slums, wherein we all dabble to the detriment of our hands—mental, literary and theological.

Sir John moved slightly in his chair, leaning one hand on one knee. His back was very flat, his clothes were perfect, his hair was not his own, nor yet his teeth, but his manners were entirely his own. His face was eighty years old, and yet he smiled his keen society smile with the best of them. There was not a young man in the room of whom he was afraid conversationally.

"No, Lady Cantourne," he replied. "Your charming niece is heartless. She will get on."

"As to the other, it is early to give an opinion."

"She has had the best of trainings," he murmured. And Lady Cantourne turned on him with a twinkling smile.

"For which?" she asked.

"Holiness!" he answered, with a bow.

The object of his attention was the belle of that ball, Miss Millicent Chyne, who was hemmed in a corner by a group of eager dancers anxious to insert their names in some corner of her card. She was the fashion at that time, and she probably did not know that at least half of the men crowded round because the other half were there. Nothing succeeds like the success that knows how to draw a crowd.

She received the ovation self-possessedly enough, but without that hauteur affected by belles of balls—in books. She seemed to have a fresh smile for each new applicant—a smile which conveyed to each in turn the fact that she had been attempting all along to get her programme safely into his hands. A halting masculine pen will not be expected to explain how she compassed this, beyond a gentle intimation that masculine vanity had a good deal to do with her success.

"She is having an excellent time," said Sir John, weighing on the modern phrase with a subtle sarcasm. He was addicted to the use of modern phraseology spiced with a cynicism of his own.

"Yes; I cannot help sympathizing with her—a little," answered the lady.

"Nor I. It will not last."

"After all," she said, "she is my sister's child. The sympathy may only be a matter of blood. Perhaps I was like that myself once. Was it? You can tell me."

He fumbled at his lips, having reasons of his own for disliking too close a scrutiny of his face.

"That is more than probable," he answered rather indistinctly.

"Then," she said, tapping the back of his gloved hand with her fan, "we ought to be merciful to the faults of a succeeding generation. Tell me, who is that young man with the long stride who is getting himself introduced now?"

"That," answered Sir John, who prided himself upon knowing every one—knowing who they were and who they were not—"is young Oscar."

"Son of the eccentric Oscar?"

"Son of the eccentric Oscar."

"And where did he get that brown face?"

"He got that in Africa, where he has been shooting. He forms part of some one else's bag at the present moment."

"What do you mean?"

"He has been appointed a dance. Your fair niece has begged him."

The other young men rather fell back before Guy Oscar—scared, perhaps, by his long stride, and afraid that he might crush their puny toes. This enabled Miss Chyne to give him the very next dance, of which the music was commencing.

"I feel rather out of all this," said Oscar as they moved away together.

"You must excuse me," he said.

"I see no signs of it," laughed Millicent. "You are behaving very nicely. You cannot help being larger and stronger than the others. I should say it was an advantage and something to be proud of."

"Oh, it is not that," replied Oscar; "it is a feeling of unemptiness and want of smartness among these men who look so clean and correct. Shall we dance?"

"Yes," she said, "let us dance by all means."

Here she knew her own proficiency, and in a few seconds she found that her partner was worthy of her skill.

"Where have you been?" she asked presently. "I am sure you have been away somewhere, exploring or something."

"I have only been in Africa shooting."

"Oh, how interesting! You must tell me all about it."

She was watching the door all the while.

Presently the music ceased, and they made their way back to the spot whence he had taken her. She led the way thither by an almost imperceptible pressure of her fingers on his arm. There were several men waiting there, and one or two more entering the room and looking languidly round.

"There comes the favored one," Lady Cantourne murmured, with a veiled glance toward her companion.

Sir John's gray eyes followed the direction of her glance.

"My bright boy?" he inquired, with a wealth of sarcasm on the adjective.

"Your bright boy," she replied.

"I hope not," he said curtly.

They were watching a tall fair man in the doorway who seemed to know everybody, so slow was his progress into the room. The most remarkable thing about this man was a certain grace of movement. He seemed to be specially constructed to live in narrow, hampered places. He was above six feet, but being of slight build he moved with a certain languidness which saved him from that awkwardness usually associated with large men in a drawing room.

Such was Jack Meredith, one of the best known figures in London society. He had hitherto succeeded in moving through the mazes of that circle, as he now moved through this room, without jarring any one.

CHAPTER II.

MISS MILICENT CHYNE was vaguely conscious of success—and such a consciousness is apt to make the best of us a trifle elated. It was certainly one of the best balls of the season, and Miss Chyne's dress was without doubt one of the most successful articles of its sort there.

Jack Meredith saw that fact and noted it as soon as he came into the room. Moreover, it pleased him, and he was pleased to reflect that he was no mean critic in such matters. There could be no doubt about it, because he knew as well as any woman there. He knew that Millicent Chyne was dressed in the latest fashion; no furbished up gown from the hands of her maid, but a unique creation from Bond street.

"Well," she asked in a low voice as she handed him her programme, "are you pleased with it?"

"Eminently so."

She glanced down at her own dress. It was not the nervous glance of the debutante, but the practiced flash of experienced eyes which see without appearing to look.

"I am glad," she murmured.

He handed her back the card with the orthodox smile and bow of gratitude, but there was something more in his eyes.

"Is that what you did it for?" he inquired.

"Of course," with a glance half coquettish, half humble.

She took the card and allowed it to drop pendent from her fan without looking at it. He had written nothing on it. This was all a form. The dances that were his had been inscribed on the engagement card long before by smaller fingers than his.

She turned to take her attendant partner's arm with a little flout, a little movement of the hips, to bring her dress and possibly her self more prominently beneath Jack Meredith's notice. His eyes followed her with that incomparably pleasant society smile which he had no doubt inherited from his father. Then he turned and mingled with the well dressed throng, bowing where he ought to bow, asking with fervor for dances in plain but influential quarters where dances were to be easily obtained.

And all the while his father and Lady Cantourne watched.

Behind his keen old eyes Sir John watched Jack go up and claim his dance at the hands of Miss Millicent Chyne. He could almost guess what she said, for Jack was grave, and she smiled demurely. They began dancing at once, and as soon as the floor became crowded they disappeared.

Jack Meredith was an adept at such matters. He knew a set at the end of a long passage where they could sit, the beheld of all beholders who happened to pass, but no one could possibly overhear their conversation, so one could surprise them. It was essentially a strategic position.

"Well," inquired Jack, with a peculiar breathlessness, when they were seated, "have you thought about it?"

She gave a little nod.

They seemed to be taking up some conversation at a point where it had been dropped on a previous occasion.

"And?" he inquired suavely. The society polish was very thickly coated over the man, but his eyes had a hungry look.

By way of reply her gloved hand crept out toward his, which rested on the chair at his side.

THEATRICAL NOTES

KENTUCKY NEXT WEEK.

Monday night "Race for a Widow."
Tuesday night "A Texas Ranger."
Wednesday night "House of Mystery."

Pete Baker Monday Night.

Pete Baker with a comedy company in "A Race for a Widow," is the attraction at The Kentucky theater Monday night. That the show will be racy and funny the presence at the head of the cast of Pete Baker is assurance enough to Paducah theater-goers. Interpolated specialties make the show go better.

"House of Mystery."

Strange illusions, surprises of the most startling character, music and scenic effect, combined with a good plot and well costumed and drilled company of players, are promised in the "House of Mystery" Wednesday night.

Mildred Holland.

Mildred Holland, well known here by reason of her work in the "Lily and the Prince" opened in Binghamton New York, and the Herald has this to say:

Mildred Holland has been seen here in many good things, but it is safe to say that she has never presented a play which gives her the opportunity to do so much effective work in a short time as does Matthew Barry's new piece, "A Paradise of Lies," which she presented at the Stone opera house last evening for the first time.

As a first night it was decidedly a successful production. This was shown by the six curtain calls which were given Miss Holland at the end of the second act and the three calls which the audience insisted upon at the end of the performance.

The plot of the play is laid in Italy in the latter part of the eighteenth century, and is the story of the daughter of a nobleman whose nephew attempts to drown the baby girl in a lily pond that he may inherit the large fortune, and whose effort is blocked by the arrival of an old master, whose child has been drowned in the pond many years before. Her loves and sorrows, from then until she is acknowledged as the daughter of the English earl, and finally becomes the bride of the strolling player, to whom she gives her first real love, are then portrayed in a brilliant, masterful way.

It would be impossible to say enough of Miss Holland's work to do her justice, but in addition to her, there are others in the cast who have opportunities and make use of them. Alma Chester as the "Countess Isabella," makes her old time friends sit up and take notice. Grace Young makes an Italian girl of the real sort. Viola Crane does some very excellent work. In the male characters, Edward Wonn as "Pablo," the strolling player, keeps up his end of the play. Robert Kegerreis, as "Richard," the profligate nobleman, is good, and George Warrington is an excellent "Earl o' Kenmore." Howard Sydney does his "Antonio," the old musician and "Toto," the fool of the play, in a most effective manner.

NEW YORK THEATERS.

New York, Oct. 6.—It was practically a prolonged howl of laughter that greeted N. C. Goodwin on Monday evening at the Bijou theater when he presented himself in a farce called "The Genius." The public had been for a long time making known its desire to see Mr. Goodwin once again in a broadly humorous ous interpretation, and upon this occasion he surely gave them all they had been asking for.

George M. Cohan's new play, "Popularity," has been submitted to a New York trial at Wallack's theater and the immediate result seems to be somewhat in question. This does not necessarily condemn the play itself, which indeed is ingenious in complication, smart in dialogue and otherwise worthy of encouragement. But the public wants music and jingle and pictorial background with its Cohan plays.

Henry B. Irving and Dorothea Baird met with a most earnest and enthusiastic welcome at the New Amsterdam theater on Monday night, presenting what is in this country a new version of the story of "Francesca di Rimini," first done here by Lawrence Barrett and afterward played by Otis Skinner and other artists of the best grade. The Irving-Baird adaptation is by Stephen Phillips, and is brought out under the title "Paola and Francesca." Mr. Irving's acting is both incisive and forceful, while the personality of Miss Baird (who, by the way, was the original Trilby in London) is exceedingly charming and attractive. Other plays to be seen during this engagement include "The Lyons Mail" and several selections from the repertoire of the late Sir Henry Irving.

Mr. Savage's production of "The Stolen Story," at the Garden theater, will be a novelty in theme to the vast majority of theater patrons, in that it will show for the first time some of the real inner workings of American newspaper life. It has other good qualities, too, among them strength of purpose and skillful working out of detail. "The Stolen Story" is most admirably played by a company including Jamieson Lee Finney, Beverly Sitgreaves, Dorothy Tennant, Edwin Holt and several others who have demonstrated their claims to special distinction.

In order that Miss Lillian Russell may come into the Savoy theater with "Barbara's Millions" next Monday night, Miss Rose Stahl, in "The Chorus Lady," will go over to the Garrick for an open week between the ending of William H. Crane's engagement and the beginning of the New York run of William Gillette in his own play called "Clarice."

"The Prince of India" at the Broadway theater is hailed as being "an equally big play as Ben Hur," in which case there will be one of those marvelous runs which Klaw & Erlanger have been associated with heretofore in this edifice. A feature of the entertainment that has especially gratified the management is the individual hit scored by Emmett Corrigan, who was brought back to Broadway from the vaudeville theaters to play in the Lew Wallace drama and fairly electrified the audience on the first night.

Charles Frohman thinks very highly of the new Clyde Fitch play called "Truth," which he placed in rehearsal the other day for early production.

The illness of Bertha Kalich has caused the temporary darkness at the Lyric theater, where, however, we will have Virginia Harned next week in "The Love Letter."

Mr. Hays had many admirers. He has a stylish English seat, and rode a large horse with magnificent gaits. All were liberally applauded for their horsemanship.

Closing Event.

There were six entries in the contest for the best pacer attached to a runabout. The entries were Wynn Tully, Benjie Frank, Owen Tully and Mr. Nicholson, of this city, E. A. Fitzgerald, Cairo and Mr. Haley, of Murray. Mr. Haley got first prize of $15. Mr. Fitzgerald second of $10 and Wynn Tully third of $5.

The last event had to be called off on account of not enough entries being made. It was for the champion pair of harness horses, the prizes being $60, $25 and $10. Five entries
